

"Fusion Line"

New Year greetings to one and all. It's hard to believe another year has been and gone, but what a year it was, despite suffering two burglaries; you just can't keep a good company down! I hope your year went well and we can look forward to being of service to both new and existing customers in 2006. Here's just a taster of some things we've been busy doing. Happy welding.....

Burgess Marine, Trained, Tried & Tested

Following a request from Burgess Marine for diver-welder training and qualifications, we despatched our resident welding engineer and senior welding examiner to Dover. The training which involved the diving team to be competent in both vertical and overhead welding techniques; was for a MoD project and so standards, as you might expect, were high. Following a weeks training and instruction we are pleased to report all divers were tested and qualified to National Standards, using our Barracuda Gold welding electrodes. Divers also reported our new auto-darkening welding lens was of great benefit.

Waterproof Auto-Darkening Welding Lens

Our new auto-darkening welding lens is proving a great success. The lens, which fits into a standard Kirby Morgan lens assembly, provides a very convenient welding, or cutting accessory, as there is no need to continually lift the assembly up and down. The lens provides a real advantage over glass and helps improve weld quality, especially when it comes to stop/starts. The filter is powered by the arc, no batteries, knobs or switches and comes with a 2 year no quibble guarantee. We promise once tried, you'll never go back to just glass. Northern Boys Hit the Mark

It might be dark, muddy and uninviting in them there northern waters around Humberside, but that's never stopped Northern Divers from a days work, or at least that's what the boys tell you! The motley crew seen here are the welding crew and have just completed their on-site training programme, following a request for us to deliver a training and qualification programme. A busy December week was had by all and we are pleased to report all divers submitted successful welder qualification samples and can now call themselves coded. An improvement on what they are usually called, I guess!) Only joking guys, a job well done.....keep it up.

Morrisons Move Groceries faster with VMU

You might be forgiven for thinking Morrisons, the supermarket chain, was only any good for food shopping! Well we're sure that's true, but you might be surprised to learn they are pretty good at welding too! Especially as they have their own vehicle maintenance unit (VMU) and repair and modify HGV's on a daily basis. We are delighted to have been chosen as their preferred trainer, (now five years in a row) and have completed their welding qualifications for another year. Keep them lorries on the move boys; more and more mouths to feed!
